Growing Leaders Learning/Training Day

The High Plains and Mesalands Regional Cluster Groups formed through Ogallala Commons will be holding their first leadership training day with the LIFT program in Burlington, CO on June 11. The leadership workshop will be from 5:00-9:00p.m. at the Old Town at Colorado Visitor Center just off of I-70. The workshop is free to anyone in Baca County and any community leaders or public who are interested are encouraged to attend. There will be a group leaving from Walsh at 2:00p.m. from the John Deere building and carpooling to Burlington.

This is the first opportunity in a series of workshops designed to begin building back the leadership capacities in our rural communities. The workshop in Burlington will address what is working in our communities, and what we need to be focused on improving, an overview of the objectives of the LIFT leadership program, and creating a community service fair. If you are interested in attending please contact Laneha Everett on or before June 7. Contact information: Laneha.everett@hotmail.com, 719.643.5414
